

Fig. 2. Schematic representation of late-prophase chromosomes (1000-band stage) of man, chimpanzee, gorilla, and orangutan, arranged from left to right, respectively, to better visualize homology between the chromosomes of the great apes and the human complement.